Topic: The Most Memorable Weather Moment

Directions:

"Weather" is a popular topic for English writing. For example, Sir John Lubbock, an English banker, writes in The Use of Life (1894):

We often hear of bad weather, but in reality, no weather is bad. It is all delightful, though in different ways. Some weather be bad for farmers or crops, but for man all kinds of good. Sunshine is delicious, rain is refreshing, wind braces us up, snow is exhilarating. As Ruskin says, "There is really no such thing as bad weather, only different kinds of good weather."

Please write a four- to five-paragraph well-organized essay within 600 words to describe the most memorable weather moment you have ever experienced and narrate any unforgettable stories related to your chosen weather moment.
